

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's watch TV to relieve stress.

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe events in the news in a range of social and work contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs, work, and staying healthy.
- I can talk about cause and effect.
- I can talk about wishes and imaginary situations.

Ask your partner:

- What do you think about staying up all night to watch movies?
- How do you balance your work and your social life?

Let's Explore!

Sally invites Peter to an all-night TV marathon. What does he say?

* A "marathon" is a 42.2-km running race, but it can also describe an event that goes on for a long time.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Mmm, Peter, I'm planning this TV marathon Saturday night. Can you come? We're going to watch the final season of 24, which is actually only 12 hours.
- Peter: 12 hours? If I stay up all night, I am useless the next day.
- Sally: Well, if we watch all the episodes back to back with no commercials, it's actually only 8 hours.
- Peter: Actually, I have a deadline at work for this marketing plan. I need to work through the weekend. If I'm done early, I'll come over.
- Sally: Vanessa told me that if I did something relaxing, it would take my mind off work. If you listened to her, you would be happier too.
- Peter: I know. It's my first major marketing plan. If the director approves it, he will grant me similar projects in the future. If I move up in this company, I could retire at 55.
- Sally: If we keep working at this pace, we won't make it to 55. If you love Jack Bauer as much as I know you do, you won't miss my party.
- Peter: I will definitely think about balancing my work life with my social life.

Let's Practice!

Would you work all weekend or stay up all night?

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Select the correct answer.

1. Sally is planning a TV marathon party because she wants ...
 - a. to have a dinner party.
 - b. to have no commercials.
 - c. to take her mind off work.
2. Peter is working through the weekend because ...
 - a. his project has a deadline.
 - b. he wants to be done early.
 - c. he doesn't like to watch TV for 12 hours.
3. If the director approves Peter's marketing plan, Peter would
 - a. not work through the weekend in the future.
 - b. get to work on similar projects in the future.
 - c. retire at 55 years old.
4. Vanessa advised Sally to do something relaxing to ...
 - a. get her mind off work.
 - b. be able to work harder the next day.
 - c. work through the weekend.
5. Sally thinks if they continue to work too hard, they ...
 - a. will retire rich.
 - b. will get similar projects.
 - c. won't live till 55 years old.

Let's Practice!

Would you watch TV all night?

Instructions: Complete the sentences below by choosing from the options that you are given.

- 1) If I'm done early, ____ over.
- 2) If _____ something relaxing, it would take my mind off work.
- 3) If you listened to her, you _____ happier too.
- 4) If I _____ in this company, I could retire at 55.
- 5) If we keep working at this pace, we _____ to 55.

Word Bank

- won't make it
- I did
- would be
- move up
- I'll come

Extension Activity

Write a short story about an experience you've had.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of a time when you stayed up all night doing something.
- Write a story (10 sentences). Include:
 - who invited you
 - what you did during the night
 - how you felt the next day
 - whether you would do it again
- If you haven't had this experience, imagine what you would do if you stayed up all night.
- Use 3-4 conditional sentences.
- Read your story to a partner.
- Ask your partner if they would do the same thing.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I discuss past events.

☐ ☐

I talk about conditional situations.

☐ ☐

I discuss wishes and experiences with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- useless (adjective): cannot be used to do anything
e.g. If I stay up all night, I am useless the next day.
- deadline (noun): the last day you must do something
e.g. The deadline for Peter's marketing plan is Monday.
- to retire (verb): to not work anymore, usually after 60 or 65 years of age e.g. If I become an executive in this company, I could retire at 55.
- to approve (verb): to accept a plan as good e.g. If the director approves my marketing plan, I would be very happy.
- to grant (verb): agree to give or allow e.g. If the director accepts my marketing plan, he will grant me similar projects in the future.
- definitely (adverb): for sure; for certain e.g. I will definitely think about balancing my work life with my social life.
- pace (noun): the speed at which someone moves or something happens
e.g. If we keep working at this pace, we won't make it to 55 years of age.

Learning Points

Talking about Cause and Effect - The Zero Conditional

You use the Zero Conditional when you are absolutely certain of the result.

When you use the Zero Conditional, you don't think of the future, the past, or the present. We think only of a simple fact.

It means: If something happens, then the result is always the same.

If	condition	result
	Present Simple	Present Simple
If	I leave home late,	I miss my bus.
If	you leave your coffee on the table,	it gets cold.
If	I don't eat breakfast,	I can't think at work.

Examples:

- If I stay up all night, I am useless the next day.
- If we watch all the episodes back to back, it takes much less time.

Learning Points

First & Second Conditional Sentences

In these other conditional sentences, we think about the future. We think about a particular condition in the future and the result of this condition.

In the First Conditional, there is a real possibility that this condition will happen.

Example: If I get a raise, I will take you out for dinner.

In the Second Conditional, there isn't a real possibility that this condition will happen.

Example: If I won the lottery, I would travel the world.

First Conditional:

If	Condition	Result
	Present Simple	will + base verb
	If it rains,	I will take the bus to work.

Second Conditional:

If	Condition	Result
	Past Simple	would + base verb
	If it rained next weekend,	the company picnic would be cancelled.

Examples

First Conditional	• If I'm done early, I'll come over. • If the director approves it, he will grant me similar projects in the future. • If I move up in this company, I could retire at 55. • If we keep working at this pace, we won't make it to 55. • If you love Jack Bauer as much as I know you do, you won't miss my party.
Second Conditional	• If I did something relaxing, it would take my mind off work. • If you listened to her, you would be happier too.

