

Instructor: ..... Date: .....

Learner: ..... Regional Branch: .....

Program: ..... Center: .....

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: When you dial the wrong number, what can you say?

Learning Outcome

Exchange advice and suggestions in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- How many English words do you know that start with wr?
- Can you say wr- words related to jobs and work?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can pronounce the sound wr.
- I can manage a phone conversation.

Let's Explore!

Why is Vanessa stressed *at work?

* "Stress" has been found to be the cause of many illnesses, which make people miss days of work.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: Hello, Bistro 88, Vanessa speaking.
Caller: Hi. How much is a wrought iron lamp?
Vanessa: I think you've got the wrong number.
Caller: Oh, my friend passed on this number to me. Is this 617-555-1740?
Vanessa: No, it's 1440.
Caller: Oh, sorry about that.
Vanessa: No problem. Oh, goodness.
Assistant Manager: Vanessa, you look like a wreck. Are you okay?
Vanessa: Oh, I'm so tired from all the phone calls. That was another wrong number. Sometimes I just want to hang up on them. I still have to call up the restaurant owner on video.
Assistant Manager: You're wringing your hands. Are you worried about the call? Maybe you should take a break.
Vanessa: No, I still have to rewrite the safety policy because I forgot to save it. I swear I'm starting to put wrinkles on my face.
Assistant Manager: Oh, no. Well, I've written something similar before. Can I help?
Vanessa: Oh, that would be much appreciated. That way, I don't have to wrack my brain on the wording. Thanks.
Assistant Manager: Hey, did you see the write-up of our restaurant in Cambridge Life magazine?
Vanessa: Oh, I think my friend Sally wrote it. I must read it.

Let's Practice!

Can you hear the word with the /wr/ sound?

Instructions: Underline the word with the /wr/ consonant in each sentence. Practice saying the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. Vanessa, you look like a wreck. Have you had a break today?
2. You're wringing your hands. Are you worried about the call with the owner?
3. Have you written something similar in the past?
4. If you help me, I don't have to wrack my brain on the wording.
5. Did you see the write-up on our restaurant in Cambridge Life magazine?

Let's Practice!

Are you sure it's the right number?

Instructions: Read the sentences. Write the missing phrases and words. Choose from the options that you are given.

Word Bank

passed on / no problem / this / hang up / you've got

- Vanessa: I think _____ the wrong number.
- Caller: Oh, my friend _____ this number to me.
- Caller: Is _____ 617-555-1740?
- Vanessa: No, it's 1440.
- Caller: Oh, sorry about that.
- Vanessa: _____. Oh, goodness. That was another wrong number.
Sometimes I just want to _____ on them.

Extension Activity

Read a write-up of a local restaurant you have been to. Write your own review.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Find a write-up in a magazine or website for a local restaurant that you have been to.
- Read the write-up article. Then rewrite it with your own opinion of the restaurant.
- Use as many phrasal verbs as you can.
- Share your review with your partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I read and understand a review of a local restaurant.

☐ ☐

I write my own review of a local establishment.

☐ ☐

I use phrasal verbs.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- wrought iron (adjective): carefully formed or shaped iron designs
e.g. Where can I buy a wrought iron lamp?
- wreck (noun): someone who is a mess; showing strain from being overtired and overworked
e.g. Vanessa looked like a wreck from the stress at work.
- to wring (verb): to twist and rub your hands together because you are nervous or upset e.g. Vanessa was wringing her hands because she was nervous about the video call with the owner.
- wrinkle (noun): a small line or fold that appears on your skin as you grow older (usually used in the plural)
e.g. She thinks the stress from her job is putting wrinkles on her face.
- to wrack/rack (verb): to make your brain suffer from thinking too hard e.g. Vanessa didn't want to wrack/rack her brain by herself writing the safety policy.
- write-up (noun): an article, usually a review, that appears in an informal magazine
e.g. There was a write-up about Bistro 88 in the local magazine.

Learning Points

Pronouncing the Consonant Blend /wr/

Words that begin with the /wr/ consonant blend sound the same as words that begin with /r/.

In English, you will often encounter silent letters. One example is words that begin with /wr/ where the w is silent.

Look at the table below that shows one word starting with /wr/ and a similar word starting with /r/. The pronunciation is the same.

| Words with Wr | Words with the same sound |
|---------------|---------------------------|
| wrought       | rot                       |
| wreck         | reckon                    |
| wring         | ring                      |
| write         | right                     |
| wrote         | rote                      |
| wrack         | rack                      |
| wrinkles      | rink                      |

