

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe events in the news in a range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- How demanding is your schoolwork or job?
- What changes are you planning to make in the next few months to be better?

Can Do Statements

- I can manage a phone conversation.
- I can talk about staying healthy.
- I can talk about cause and effect.
- I can give advice or talk about wishes and imaginary situations.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa catches up with her parents over a video chat.

* When you refer to people, you say catch up with. When you're talking about work, you say catch up on.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: Hey, Dad.

Dad: Hi, Vanessa. Nice to see you on video chat again. You're not working today?

Vanessa: No, I slept in so I can get back at it tomorrow. How are you holding up?

Dad: I'm superb. If I take it easy every day, I don't stress my heart.

Vanessa: That's great to hear. If I were you, I would work in the garden and take easy walks in the park.

Dad: Yeah, I'm doing that. The doctor said that if I take moderate walks daily, it builds up my heart's strength again.

Vanessa: Can I talk to Mom?

Dad: Yeah, hold on a second. She's right here. Honey, Vanessa would like to talk to you.

Mom: Coming. Hi, Vanessa. It's delightful to see you. Have you caught up on your beauty sleep?

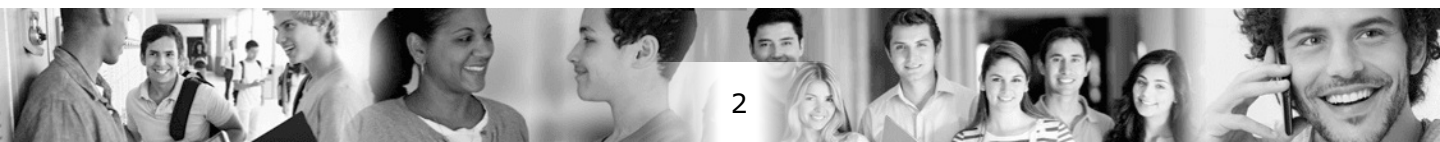

Vanessa: Yeah. I was so exhausted before. I definitely need to pace myself at work so that I don't pass out.

Mom: If you don't stop overworking yourself, you'll retire early like your dad.

Vanessa: I know. If I won the lottery, I would open up my own restaurant and monitor it over a webcam from Martha's Vineyard.

Mom: If you had your own business, it would become your passion.

Vanessa: I guess so.

Let's Practice!

Maybe you should take it easy.

Instructions: Select a phrase from the box to correctly complete the sentences.

1. If I were you,
2. If you take it easy everyday,
3. If I take moderate walks daily,
4. If I won the lottery,

Phrases

it builds up your heart's strength.
I don't stress my heart.
I would rest and work in the garden.
I would open up my own restaurant.

Let's Practice!

What should I do to not break down?

Instructions: Read the sentences. Underline all the phrasal verbs. Practice saying the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. I slept in so that I can get back at it tomorrow.
2. How are you holding up today?
3. If I take moderate walks daily, it builds up my heart's strength again.
4. Have you caught up on your beauty sleep?
5. I definitely need to pace myself at work so that I don't pass out.

Extension Activity

Write a paragraph on a dream that you have for your future.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of a dream that you have for your future. Maybe it is to open up your own business or to travel.
- Write a paragraph of at least 10 sentences. Use conditional sentences to describe your dream.
- Use phrasal verbs about being in good health to achieve your dream.
- Read your paragraph to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write a paragraph about my future.

☐
☐

I express dreams and possibilities.

☐
☐

I use action words to talk about staying healthy.

☐
☐

Target Words

- video chat (noun): to chat with someone through the computer screen
e.g. It's nice to see you on video chat again.
- to sleep in (verb): to sleep longer than usual
e.g. I slept in this morning so that I could work hard tomorrow.
- to get back at it (expression): to return to a task you were doing a little while ago e.g. I got more sleep today so that I could get back at it tomorrow.
- to catch up on (verb): to do something you didn't do enough of before e.g. Have you caught up on your beauty sleep?
- beauty sleep (expression): an expression based on the belief that more sleep makes you more beautiful e.g. I'm glad I got my beauty sleep. I think I look better today.
- exhausted (adjectives): feeling extremely tired
e.g. I need to slow down at work so that I don't get so exhausted.
- to pass out (verb): to faint and lose consciousness
e.g. If I drink any more, I think I'll pass out.

Learning Points

Phrasal Verbs

There are various phrasal verbs that are used to talk about different things. In this lesson, we've talked about phrasal verbs for talking on the phone and for talking about health. Let's review.

Phrasal verbs are constructed with:

verb + particle/preposition

The verb by itself has one meaning and takes on a different meaning when put together with the preposition.

Here is list of phrasal verbs for talking on the phone and for talking about health.

Phrasal Verb	Meaning
to speak up	to speak louder into the phone
to hang up	to end a conversation and disconnect.
to cut off	to interrupt a phone conversation
to call back	to call someone again or in return
to break up	when the other person's voice is unclear and you can't hear them well to build up	increase or become larger or stronger, or to make someone or something do this to put on	increase how much you weigh, to get fatter or heavier
to take up	start doing an activity, hobby or job
to cut out	stop eating or drinking something, usually to improve your health

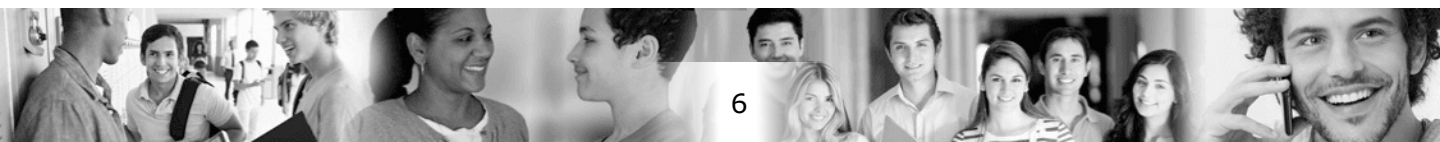

Learning Points

Examples

Talking on the Phone	Examples
to speak up	Could you speak up? I can't hear you well. to hang on/to hold on	Could you hold on for a moment please?
to put through	Could you put me through to the front desk please?
to cut off	The reception was bad, so we got cut off.
Talking about Health	Examples
to sleep in	Many people sleep in on weekends to get more rest.
to catch up on	I need to catch up on my beauty sleep.
to build up	Walking builds up the heart's strength for heart disease patients.
to pass out	She passed out on the sofa because she was so tired.

Learning Points

Zero conditional vs. Conditional Sentences

There is a difference between Zero Conditional sentences and other conditional sentences.

In the Zero Conditional, the condition is always true. The Present Simple tense is used. In other conditional sentences, there may or may not be a possibility in the future that the condition will happen.

The Zero Conditional:

If	Condition	Result
If	Present Simple	Present Simple
If	I take moderate walks daily,	it builds up my heart's strength again.
If	I take it easy every day,	I don't stress my heart.

The First Conditional:

If	Condition	Result
If	Present Simple	will + base verb
If	you don't stop overworking,	you'll retire early like your dad.
If	you catch up on your sleep,	you will feel better.

The Second Conditional:

If	Condition	Result
If	Past Simple	would + base verb
If	I won the lottery,	I would open up my own restaurant.
If	you had your own business,	it would become your passion.

